

Starr King offers
four graduate-level
certificates:

- Unitarian Universalist Studies
- Multi-Religious Studies
- Chaplaincy Studies
- Psychedelic Justice & Companionship

Connect With Us!

Meet With Admissions

Request Info

sksm.edu/requestinfo

Send a Message

sksm.edu/connect

Make a Gift

sksm.edu/give

Follow Us on Social Media

@SKSMsocial

Certificates

www.sksm.edu

UU Studies

Directed by Dr. Meg Richardson, this certificate is ideal for seminarians attending non-UU identity schools, enabling them to study the full complement of Unitarian Universalist topics relevant to ministry and religious leadership and expected by the Ministerial Fellowship Committee.

Multi-Religious Studies

Directed by Dr. Som Pourfarzaneh, Director of the Center for Multi-Religious Studies, this certificate engages students in exploring the intersections and interactions among the world's diverse religious traditions.

Chaplaincy Studies

Directed by Rev. Dr. Pamela Hancock, this certificate enables you to study the full complement of chaplaincy topics to help you understand the types of chaplaincy positions available today, go through a formation process at your own pace, and become prepared to minister to the world.

Psychedelic Justice & Companionship

Co-directed by Rev. Dr. Pamela Hancock and J. Tyson Casey, this certificate provides a space for people of faith to train in the use of psychedelics and help propagate conversation about these altered states of consciousness in a religious context. Those who earn this certificate will be prepared to enter such conversations as chaplains, ministers, and community leaders.

Learn more at sksm.edu/certificates

